1 SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA; MONDAY, DECEMBER 14, 2015; 1:43 P.M.

01:43 2 THE CLERK: Item No. 11, SACV-15-1131, Wade P.

01:43 3 Gordon versus Quicken Loans, Inc., et al.

01:43 4 Counsel and parties, please step forward and state
01:43 5 your appearances.

01:43 6 MR. GORDON: Wade Gordon, plaintiff.

01:43 7 MR. ELRAKABAWY: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

01:43 8 Hassan Elrakabawy for the defendant Quicken Loans.

01:43 9 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

01:43 10 Have you all reviewed the tentative rulings?

01:43 11 MR. GORDON: Yes.

01:43 12 MR. ELRAKABAWY: Yes.

01:43 13 THE COURT: Let's take up the Motion to Remand.

01:44 14 Do you want to be heard on that one, Mr. Gordon?

01:44 15 MR. GORDON: Is the judgment final, or is this
01:44 16 something I can appeal? I mean, it's pretty straightforward
01:44 17 in the documentation. What is Your Honor asking of me?

01:44 18 THE COURT: Well, I issue tentatives on Fridays.
01:44 19 Those aren't the final orders. The purpose of issuing those 01:44 20 is to give and counsel and the parties an opportunity to 01:44 21 know where the Court's thinking is, so you can come in and 01:44 22 if you want to to argue, you can address the concrete
01:44 23 position that the Court has laid out.

01:44 24 Do you want to be heard on the Motion to Remand?

01:44 25 MR. GORDON: Yes, I do. I believe Your Honor is

01:44 1 setting a dangerous precedent by allowing companies that are 01:45 2 outside the jurisdiction but operating here in California as 01:45 3 entities to not be tried as a California --

01:45 4 THE COURT: Sir, let's go back to the 01:45 5 Constitution, seriously, the Constitution and the 01:45 6 constitutional debates. We have something called diversity
01:45 7 jurisdiction; that is, a citizen of one state can take a
01:45 8 case to federal court if he is bringing it against a citizen
01:45 9 of another state.

01:45 10 The thinking was -- I don't know if this is
01:45 11 precisely the exact example that they use, but I'm selling
01:45 12 goods from Ohio, and I sell them to somebody in 01:45 13 Massachusetts. The deal goes sour, and I don't get paid. I 01:45 14 go to Massachusetts and sue. That case can be brought in 01:45 15 federal court.

01:45 16 In federal court, the judges aren't elected. They 01:46 17 are appointed by the president. In most states, judges are 01:46 18 either elected in the first instance or -- the case in 01:46 19 California is most of the time you get appointed, but you
01:46 20 have to run for election.

01:46 21 So the theory behind that provision is if you
01:46 22 don't have somebody who is beholding to the local people and 01:46 23 might favor the hometown party, we're better off. That's 01:46 24 what diversity jurisdiction is about. So the fact that they 01:46 25 are from another state really is not beside the point. It

01:46 1 is the point.

01:46 2 MR. GORDON: But they do have offices in 01:46 3 California. They are operating in California. They are 01:46 4 operating according to California real estate laws.

01:46 5 THE COURT: But 1332 looks to two things to 01:46 6 determine where a state is appropriate for diversity
01:47 7 purposes: One, what's the state of incorporation? For 01:47 8 Quicken, it's not California. Where is their headquarters?
01:47 9 The Supreme Court defines that as the nerve center. Where 01:47 10 is the president, the CEO? Where do they make all the big 01:47 11 decisions? That's not California. So under the statute, 01:47 12 they are not a California corporation for purposes of 01:47 13 diversity.

01:47 14 The tentative is going to be the order of the 01:47 15 Court with regard to the remand motion.

01:47 16 Let's turn to the Motion to Dismiss. Do you want
01:47 17 to address that?

01:47 18 MR. GORDON: The defendant said they had no
01:47 19 relief. They had 120 days of relief. According to the U.S.
01:47 20 Treasury, if they receive something that is not acceptable,
01:48 21 they are to return it with dishonor. There was no return
01:48 22 with dishonor even after three notices. I followed every 01:48 23 rule according to the U.S. Treasury to --

01:48 24 THE COURT: But you have to tender a valid
01:48 25 instrument in the first place.

01:48 1 MR. GORDON: It was a surety bond. There is a
01:48 2 discharge bond that it's tied to and deposited in the U.S.
01:48 3 Treasury. They didn't even do their due diligence in 01:48 4 regards to this.

01:48 5 THE COURT: Mr. Elrakabawy, does your client still 01:48 6 have the bond?

01:48 7 MR. ELRAKABAWY: I'm not sure if we still have the 01:48 8 bond. The reason I'm hesitating to speak is I know and 01:48 9 understand that there was an investigation regarding what 01:48 10 was submitted, so I don't know if that's been turned over as 01:48 11 part of that in response to discovery.

01:48 12 THE COURT: An investigation by whom?

01:49 13 MR. ELRAKABAWY: By people in the federal 01:49 14 government. As I understand it, there was an investigation.
01:49 15 Our office was contacted by someone from the Department of 01:49 16 Justice I believe about this document, so I don't know
01:49 17 what's happening now.

01:49 18 THE COURT: Well, as part of the order of 01:49 19 dismissal, I will direct that to the extent Quicken has the 01:49 20 bond in its possession that they return it to you.

01:49 21 MR. GORDON: That's the whole point. We gave them
01:49 22 120 days to do that.

01:49 23 THE COURT: Sir, you don't get to square one by 01:49 24 the nature of what you tendered to them. You can't turn as 01:49 25 they say a sow's ear into a silk purse. You didn't tender

01:49 1 an instrument that was valid that would have triggered any 01:49 2 obligation on their part.

01:49 3 MR. GORDON: They didn't do due diligence in 01:49 4 regard to even investigating the bond. If they found it to 01:50 5 be insufficient, if they would have returned it immediately, 01:50 6 we wouldn't have gone through any of this. We wouldn't be 01:50 7 here. I would still be making the mortgage payments to 01:50 8 Quicken Loans, and we would be fine with it. Either they 01:50 9 have got a flaw in their process and procedure which -- I
01:50 10 mean, if they would have just returned it immediately, there
01:50 11 would have been no harm, no foul.

01:50 12 THE COURT: That would have been nice, but 01:50 13 whatever procedural miscues were on the Quicken Loan side,
01:50 14 they didn't turn that bond into a valid medium of tender.

01:50 15 MR. GORDON: That doesn't even sound like they did
01:50 16 due diligence.

01:50 17 THE COURT: Sir, you have got to listen to me.
01:50 18 The procedural errors you point out might have some force if 01:50 19 what you tendered in the first instance had some value and 01:50 20 was a legitimate instrument that they should have taken.
01:50 21 They may have been wrong in not sending it back to you, but 01:51 22 in the Court's analysis, the piece of paper you gave to them
01:51 23 had no value.

01:51 24 MR. GORDON: They have the ability to go to the 01:51 25 Treasury window. They can do due diligence in regard to 01:51 1 that.

01:51 2 THE COURT: No, sir, I just disagree with you.

01:51 3 The tentative on the Motion to Dismiss is going to 01:51 4 be the order of the Court. You are free to appeal this to 01:51 5 the Ninth Circuit and ask them to take a look at it. Take a
01:51 6 look at the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, and it
01:51 7 will tell you how to do it.

01:51 8 MR. GORDON: All right. Thank you very much.

01:51 9 THE COURT: Now, there is one other matter. You 01:51 10 tendered a renewed request for a lis pendens on the 01:51 11 property. Quicken hasn't responded to that request.

01:51 12 MR. ELRAKABAWY: Your Honor, we understood that 01:51 13 there would be this motion today. Now that the case has 01:52 14 been dismissed, there obviously wouldn't be a basis for a
01:52 15 lis pendens at this point.

01:52 16 THE COURT: Well, I will wait seven days for you
01:52 17 to supply me with authority to the effect that a lis pendens
01:52 18 is extinguished by a dismissal of the case at the trial
01:52 19 court. The purpose of a lis pendens is to put the world on 01:52 20 notice of claims against the property. Mr. Gordon has a
01:52 21 claim. He feels strongly that the Court is wrong.

01:52 22 Now, it seems to me until there is a final 01:52 23 judgment in the case, litigation is final, he ought to have 01:52 24 a vehicle to tell the world that he has this claim and so
01:52 25 on. The potential purchaser or lender against the property

01:52 1 would be on notice, and they could go look at this lawsuit
01:52 2 and make their own judgment. Let's assume that I'm wrong
01:52 3 and Mr. Gordon is right. It seems to me he is entitled to a
01:53 4 vehicle to protect his claim.

01:53 5 MR. ELRAKABAWY: I think that is absolutely
01:53 6 correct.

01:53 7 I do want to be heard briefly on the Motion to 01:53 8 Dismiss. I noticed that you haven't granted leave to amend,
01:53 9 so I am understanding that the case is dismissed.

01:53 10 THE COURT: Right.

01:53 11 MR. ELRAKABAWY: But at least as to the tentative,
01:53 12 the dismissal is without prejudice. I have heard the 01:53 13 suggestion that maybe he would appeal this. Based on there
01:53 14 is no fact in dispute here and based on the extensive meet 01:53 15 and confer -- and we have actually briefed this twice -- we 01:53 16 think it's appropriate to dismiss this with prejudice and 01:53 17 allow Mr. Gordon to appeal. He has brought a theory that 01:53 18 has been rejected for years and several times over. I think
01:53 19 it's only fair for the defendant to be able to get a
01:53 20 finality that -- we don't dismiss this case, and he brings 01:53 21 it tomorrow in state court.

01:53 22 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to dismiss with 01:54 23 prejudice.

01:54 24 The heart of your case depends on the validity of 01:54 25 the bond you tendered, true?

01:54 1 MR. GORDON: The bond is valid.

01:54 2 THE COURT: The heart of your case depends on that 01:54 3 fact, correct?

01:54 4 MR. GORDON: No, it's not the whole heart of the 01:54 5 case. Part of it is about an instrument, but it's also the 01:54 6 process and the rules and the laws and the regulations in 01:54 7 regards to how they are supposed to process these things
01:54 8 once they receive it. They didn't answer any of the 01:54 9 complaints in regards to -- that they didn't return it or 01:54 10 deposit it. They can't even present the bond.

01:54 11 So what happened to it? Is it offshore someplace
01:54 12 waiting for this to be done, and then they are going to 01:54 13 tender it? I haven't received anything from the U.S.
01:54 14 Treasury in regards to dishonor on this, and I haven't 01:54 15 received anything from them. So where is the bond? What 01:54 16 have they done with it?

01:55 17 THE COURT: Sir, there is nothing you can add to 01:55 18 any of the facts that would change the situation of the 01:55 19 Court's analysis, so I'm going to dismiss with prejudice.
01:55 20 That allows you to appeal. If I don't dismiss with 01:55 21 prejudice, we keep going here.

01:55 22 MR. GORDON: The reason I'm requesting that you 01:55 23 allow -- don't do it with prejudice, that you allow me the 01:55 24 lis pendens so I have some kind of protection while I do
01:55 25 this against them because otherwise I am fighting two

01:55 1 battles.

01:55 2 THE COURT: Well, sir, I'm going to give you your 01:55 3 lis pendens.

01:55 4 MR. GORDON: All right. I didn't catch that.

01:55 5 THE COURT: In that regard, you should draft a lis
01:55 6 pendens for the Court to sign. With your latest request,
01:55 7 you didn't provide a document for the Court to sign.

01:55 8 MR. GORDON: I believe I did. In fact, I believe 01:55 9 I supplied two of them. I will double-check, but I will 01:55 10 supply the Court with something for you to sign. But I 01:56 11 believe that you do have that.

01:56 12 THE COURT: So take a look at Rule 4 of the 01:56 13 Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure that basically give you 01:56 14 30 days to file a Notice of Appeal from the entry of 01:56 15 judgment.

01:56 16 I think this order closes out the matter, but if 01:56 17 you want to submit a separate judgment, that's fine.

01:56 18 (Court and clerk conferring.)

01:56 19 MR. ELRAKABAWY: We will submit a separate
01:56 20 judgment.

01:56 21 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

01:56 22 (Whereupon, the proceedings were concluded.)
